HARTLEY'S Crocodile Adventures has returned for a second bite.

After winning the major tourist attraction gong at last year's Tropical Tourism North Queensland annual awards, the family-owned business north of Cairns has again been named the region's best at Saturday night's 2010 awards.

"I expected some fairly stiff competition and it has been a very challenging year because Cairns has been going through a series of challenges," Hartley's spokeswoman Angela Freeman said.

"Our staff have put in a lot of time and effort and we have a very high level of focus on our customer service.

"All the other tourism operators have worked well to come back from the beginning of the year and it's gradually improving.

"I think what makes success is giving what you can, when you can."

Tourism Tropical North Queensland boss Rob Giason said the event in Cairns was the industry's night of nights and an opportunity to recognise the region's outstanding achievements and achievers.

"It was a great night," he said.

"It was a nice way to let go of a bit of steam on what has been a tough 12 months."

"We had fantastic regional representation," he said.

"We had winners from Torres Strait, the Daintree, Cape Tribulation, Mission Beach, Mareeba and Yungaburra.

"It was a fantastic spread of winners from across the region."

Among the other winners, Skyrail Rainforest Cableway was recognised as Tropical North Queensland's most sustainable tourism attraction.

Skyrail general manager Max Shepherd said: "Visitors come to Tropical North Queensland from around the world to experience our natural attractions, the Great Barrier Reef and Wet Tropics Rainforests; it is every operator's responsibility to present these experiences in a sustainable way."

Taking out the major tour and transport operator award was Sunlover Reef Cruises.

"It's great to be recognised as an iconic name in the Cairns tourism industry," marketing manager Patrick Blewitt said.

Sheraton Mirage general manager Lachlan Walker said the hotel was thrilled to see house keeping manager Johnathan Voss recognised with the Young Achiever's Award.

"Naturally, we're very proud of

皆さんとても気さくでカメラが回っていない時でも周りを楽しませてくれるほどサービス精神満点。ケアンズは初めてだったそうですが、すっかりお気に入りになったとのことでした。
